

Chaucer

In choosing an excerpt from a poem by John Ferns with the same title, I have written a lyric homage to the landmark poet whose Canterbury Tales offer such a vibrant picture of the English springtime.